Vocational Education Centre in Calw District

District library

The district library is a lending library. It belongs to the district of Calw.

That is why it is called the district library.

The district library is located in the Vocational Education Centre.

That is why it is also a school library.

The district library is open to everyone.

In the library you can read, learn and play games. You can also talk quietly to other people.

A nice place where you can meet friends or be on your own.

Services of the district library
